Reflection

Â

Listen to him

In all times of life,
we can find hope and new life
from the word of God.

In the confusions of life
we find meaning in listening to Jesus.
In the pain of life,
we find consolation in listening to Jesus
and hearing his words to others like us.

Words like,
Do not be afraid,
I am with you always,
come to me all who are weary.

And when we want to know how to shape the commitments of our lives
we listen to his words to his disciples
Come, follow me,
Take up your cross and follow me,
Go teach all nations.

And when we look into the future
and wonder about life and death,
wonder about the future for our Â children
we get new life from his words,
Trust in God and trust in me,
Your heavenly Father will care for you.

And when we look at the needs of the world,
at the poverty and homelessness,
at the debts of the poorer nations,
at the violence between groups of people,
we are challenged and inspired by his words,
What you do for others, you do for me,
Love one another as I have loved you.

This is my Son, the Beloved,
Listen to Him.

PARISH MISSION PRAYER

Heavenly Father, we pray that our Parish Mission may be a time of grace and renewal for all.
We ask you to bless all the families in our Parish, especially those who are experiencing difficulties.
Bless the old, the young, the poor, the sick, the unemployed, and those in sorrow or despair.
Help us dear Lord, to grow in faith and love of you.
Amen.

 Preamble

Cardinal Brady has asked that the first two Sundays of Lent would be devoted to explaining the parts of the Mass, in preparation for the International Eucharistic Congress.

First Sunday in Lent

Introduction

To be read before the initial procession into the Church.

In preparation for the International Eucharistic Congress which will take place in Dublin this coming June, Cardinal Brady has asked that over the next two weeks there should be a focus on explaining the parts of the Mass. Today we will consider the themes of Gathering and Penitential Rite and the Word of God. Next week we will consider the themes of the Liturgy of the Eucharist, the Communion and the Sending. As you leave today please take home with you the booklet on Eucharist that is available at the back of the Church.

For a moment let us reflect on the theme of Gathering.

GATHERING

There is a deeply rooted human need to gather; to talk and to listen, to eat together and make music.Â We gather to celebrate and when we are sad and feeling vulnerable. Other peopleâ€™s presence, when we have something in common, gives us strength.Â Genesis 2:12 states it simply â€œIt is not good for man to be aloneâ€• while the poet John Donne said â€œa man is an islandâ€•. Gathering is so central to our humanity we donâ€™t notice it all and tend to be more sensitive to the absence of gathering when it happens.

We tend to like our own space but need the common space when we gather.Â We are uncomfortable if someone is excluded from our group and we donâ€™t easily understand it when someone withdraws from the life of the community. Since creation, people of every culture have gathered and worshipped God.Â Long before the birth of Jesus there was a strong awareness among the people of Israel that God had gathered them and formed them to be a people of his own. The Mass, whether it is celebrated in a great cathedral or in a small chapel on the side of a mountain, or in a park in Madrid, continues Jesusâ€™ work of gathering people together in communion with him and with one another to journey as the Body of Christ of which they are all members.Â When we gather we recognise Jesus in each other. So let us begin Mass now by standing.

Procession, Sign of the Cross, Greeting

PENITENTIAL RITE

The priest refers to the Mass we are attending as â€œsacred mysteries.â€™ What we are about to witness is beyond our senses and to prepare ourselves to truly experience these sacred mysteries, we must divest ourselves of our ego. What is it that I need to let go of to truly celebrate the sacred act of God coming into our midst?

Sin is anything that breaks my relationship with God. Anything that I choose other than God or Godâ€™s will for me is sin. Acknowledging that we have sinned is an important starting point if we are to enter into our need for salvation. It is important to make use of this part of the Mass that focuses on our sinfulness, to foster a deep sense of our need for God.

The Penitential Rite continues

GODâ€™S WORD Â

To be read before the Liturgy of the Word

We have spoken earlier how Christ is present in the â€œgatheringâ€• when we come together to celebrate Mass.Â He is also truly present in his Word.

Â The Liturgy of the Word starts with the First Reading and ends with the Prayer of the Faithful.Â When we gather at a friendâ€™s home for a meal, we always begin with conversation, telling our stories.Â At Mass, after the gathering and penitential rites, we sit down and listen as readings from the Word of God are proclaimed.Â They are the stories of Godâ€™s love for his people.

On Sundays there are three readings from the Bible. The first reading will be from the Old Testament. It will relate to the Gospel and will give background and an insight into the meaning of the Gospel. Then we will recite or sing a psalm - a song from God's own inspired hymnal, the Book of Psalms. The Second Reading will usually be from one of the letters of Paul or another apostolic writing.

The Gospel is then read by the priest. Because of the unique presence of Christ in the proclamation of the Gospel, it is the custom to stand in attentive reverence to hear these words. We believe that Christ is present in his Word, since it is he himself who speaks when the holy Scriptures are read in the Church. The readings at Mass rotate on a three yearly cycle.

Some visitors to the Catholic Mass are surprised to find us reading from the Bible! We Catholics have not generally been famous for our Bible reading, and yet the Mass has always been fundamentally biblical. Not only the three readings and the psalm, but most of the words and phrases of the prayers of the Mass are taken from the Bible. During the Liturgy of the Word we are asked very simply to listen as God speak to us. When the word of God is spoken at liturgy, God is speaking to us "live". We're not listening to something God once said. We're not being taught a lesson. The living God is speaking "live" to us here and now. God will say a special word to each of us at every Mass. It may be a word of comfort, or direction or a new way of seeing things, but God speaks a tailor-made word to each of us. It may be in the readings, the Gospel or the homily. All we need to do is open ourselves to be receptive to his Word. How do we do that? By listening attentively! So let us now really listen to what God is saying to us today.

The Readings, Psalm and Gospel are read

The homily reflects on the word and relates it to our life situation today. After the homily we recite the Creed. The Creed is more than a list of things which we believe. It is a statement of our faith in the Word we have heard proclaimed in the readings and the homily.

The Liturgy of the Word (our "storytelling" part of the Mass) comes to an end with the General Intercessions or Prayer of the Faithful. The Prayer of the Faithful helps us remember who God is calling us to be. We are the Body of Christ by Baptism. Now, as we prepare to approach the table for the Eucharist we pray that we really come to resemble the Body of Christ, with shelter for the homeless, healing for the sick, food for the hungry.

God's power is in his Word. There are numerous accounts in the Gospels of the power of his Word. With a word He cast out devils, with a word He healed the sick, with a word He calmed the storms and with a word He raised Lazarus from the dead! God's word is as powerful today as it was 2000 years ago. It is the living Word of the living Christ. Let us stand to recite the Creed.

Second Sunday of Lent

Introduction " before the Mass begins

In preparation for the International Eucharistic Congress which will take place in Dublin this coming June, Cardinal Brady has asked that the first two two Sundays of Lent should be devoted to explaining the parts of the Mass. Last week we looked at Gathering and the Penitential Rite and the Word of God. Today we will consider the themes of the Liturgy of the Eucharist, Communion and the Sending. As you leave today please take home with you the booklet on Eucharist that is available at the back of the Church.

Presentation of the gifts:

To be read after the Prayer of the Faithful and before the Presentation of the Gifts:

Now we move from the Liturgy of the Word to the Liturgy of the Eucharist. This begins with the presentation of the gifts. When the gifts are carried forward it is a sign for all gathered to bring ourselves and the gifts of our lives before God. As we say the prayer of thanks over the bread and wine, it is recognising that all we have in our life is given by God, including the bread and wine that is offered up in the Mass. Too often maybe we do not thank God for the many good things we have in our life and take so many of our blessings in life for granted. Thus, as we begin the Liturgy of the Eucharist we pause to say thank you to the Lord for providing us with all that nourishes us.

During this time the priest washes his hands as a sign of asking God to help him to prepare to celebrate this Mass for the people of God by cleansing him from his sins.

We then pray the Preface to help us dwell more closely in the great mystery and love that is about to unfold in the Consecration. The preface is addressed to God as we remember the story of salvation that has lead us to the point of Christ's saving action on the Cross. Then we pray together the Holy Holy " it may be sung or said, but either way we should all join in the prayer. It is a beautiful part of the Mass whereby we join with all the angels and saints in heaven in praising God " a unification of the Church on earth and the Church in heaven, immediately before we recall the great act of love on the Cross on Calvary.

Then follows the Prayers over the gifts, the Preface and the Holy Holy

After the Holy Holy

The Eucharistic Prayer which includes the Consecration of the Bread and Wine

The Consecration is the central part of the Mass whereby the priest calls down the Holy Spirit upon the bread and wine and it becomes the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. We recall the words of Jesus himself, who at the Last supper which he celebrated with his friends, said; 'This is my body' which would be given up for us and 'my blood' which would be poured out on the Cross for us. He then added that we are to 'Do this' in remembrance of him.

At this part of the Mass, as demonstrated by the Words of Jesus himself, it is as if we are actually present at Calvary as the saving act of Christ on the Cross becomes real. At this time the bell rings and we bow in respect, adoration and in awe of his love.

During this part of the Mass as the Spirit of God is called down we too can bow our heads and ask God's Spirit to come upon us so that we can offer up our gifts, our talents and our lives to God - that God may bless them so that we too can play our part in being the Body of Christ.'

Communion Rite

To be read just before the Our Father – wait til all are standing

The Our Father:

Together we stand and pray the prayer that Jesus taught his disciples. In this prayer we pray that through our lives we may help to build God's kingdom here and now. This prayer also helps us before we receive the Body of Christ (the greatest nourishment we can receive as we pray for our daily bread). It helps us as we pray for forgiveness from our sins; that we too might have the grace to forgive those who have hurt us and to keep us clear of temptation.

After the Our Father the priest prays for all of us to be kept from sin and in peace, to keep us free from worry or harm.

After the prayer, Deliver us we pray for Peace:

And now we pray for peace. The one thing that we all want in life is peace, for peace in our hearts especially. We pray for peace collectively for all in the Church. We make this prayer a real and visible prayer as we embody the words by sharing with one another the sign of peace.

Lamb of God:

In the presence of Christ on the Altar - the Lamb of God – we pray that he will have mercy on us and will once again grant us his peace.

This prayer to the 'Lamb of God' has great significance to the people of Ireland.

When our Lady appeared at Knock alongside her was the Lamb of God. Many people focus mainly on the apparition of Our Lady but perhaps more importantly her Son was also present in the image of the Lamb - a sign of Christ - and his blessed family in the person of St. Joseph, and with his disciples, represented by St. John, in the Church

At the Last Supper which is the basis of the Mass there was no lamb on the table as was usual for a Passover Meal.

Jesus himself on the cross became the Lamb - the Lamb of God - who takes away the sins of the World. It is in this prayer that with reverence we approach the Lamb of God to take away our sins and to grant us peace.

As we are called then to this supper of the Lamb we reply with the words of the centurion who had put his trust completely in Jesus.

Lord I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof but only say the word and my soul shall be healed

The priest continues with, Lord Jesus Christ, who said

After the Lord, I am not worthy

The reception of Holy Communion:

We now come forward to receive the Body of Christ – the greatest gift we can receive. We receive the fullness of the Body and Blood, Soul and divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ. He is now a part of us and with us in such an intimate way. We have prayed that we may be worthy to receive him – maybe we could pray an act of contrition as we approach the Altar. There can be no better time to relay all the prayers and feelings in our heart towards him – asking Christ to be with us, bringing us his strength, healing and grace.

As he is united to us so personally it gives us hope, as we prepare to move forward, that our ways will be joined to his ways.

Sending

To be read before the final prayer of the Mass and blessing and dismissal when the people are sitting

When the Priest or the Eucharistic Minister brings us Holy Communion, he or she says 'The Body of Christ' to which we answer 'Amen'. The word 'Amen' means, 'So be it' or 'it is true'. So what are we affirming or giving

Many people think it is affirming the real presence in the host that we are about to receive but that is not the main focus. We have already affirmed Christ's real presence in the acclamation after the consecration.

The 'Amen' that one gives just before reception of Holy Communion is our yes to be the Body of Christ in the world. It is you and I saying 'Yes Lord I will be your compassionate loving presence in the World. I will be your voice, your touch, your love, your healing, your visible presence among my family and neighbours.'

When the priest sends us out with the dismissal to go and announce the Gospel of the Lord that is what each one of us is called to do. We are called to be what we have received. Having received the Body of Christ we are to be the Body of Christ in the world. Having become one with him in Communion we are to become one with our neighbour. Eucharist strengthens us to go out and bring Christ to those whom we meet. So today as you have received the Host be conscious of what you have said yes to.

We have celebrated the Liturgy of the Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist. Now we are sent out into the world to continue the Mass by engaging in the "Liturgy of the Neighbour". Just as Christ gathered us at the beginning to strengthen us by being together and being nourished by his Word and his Body and Blood we are now sent by him to be his Word and his Body and Blood with our neighbours and with our families. It is best summed up in the words of St Teresa of Avila

These words may be sung on a CD

Christ Has No Body
Christ has no body but yours,
No hands, no feet on earth but yours,
Yours are the eyes with which he looks compassion on this world,
Yours are the feet with which he walks to do good,
Yours are the hands, with which he blesses all the world.
Yours are the hands, yours are the feet,
Yours are the eyes, you are his body.
Christ has no body now but yours,
No hands, no feet on earth but yours,
Yours are the eyes with which he looks compassion on this world.
Christ has no body now on earth but yours.

(Teresa of Avila (1515-1582))

A period of silence follows before the final prayer, blessing and dismissal.
